Castlevania (Also on Netflix.)

A vampire hunter fights to save a besieged city from an army of otherworldly creatures controlled by Dracula. He gains two unlikely, yet necessary comrades in this pursuit of this goal. One, a mage named Sypha, and the other, Dracula's son, Alucard. Together, they take on formidable foes, and become friends -- or something.

Tokyo Ghoul

In modern day Tokyo, society lives in fear of Ghouls: creatures who look exactly like humans - yet hunger insatiably for their flesh. None of this matters to Ken, a bookish and ordinary boy, until a dark and violent encounter turns him into the first ever Ghoul-human half breed. Trapped between two worlds, Ken must survive the violent conflicts of warring Ghoul factions, while attempting to learn more about his powers.

Claymore

A small island is plagued with shape-shifting creatures called Yoma who love eating human flesh. Most humans are no match for these powerful beasts, so mercenaries are sent out to slay them. The villagers call these mercenaries "Claymores" or "silver-eyed witches." They are half-yoma, and half-human women tasked with abolishing the threat for mankind.

Full Metal Alchemist (Also on Netflix.)

Edward and Alphonse Elric two young brothers who attempt to bring their deceased mother back with alchemy. But the transmutation backfires. Edward loses his leg while Alphonse loses his body. The boys spend the next three years searching for the mythical Philosopher's Stone to restore Alphonse's body. Of course, the journey is never as smooth as one would hope. Note: There are two versions of this show. "Full Metal Alchemist" and "Brotherhood". I have linked the first, but both are great.

Knights of Sidonia (Also on Netflix.)

Earth was destroyed by a race of shapeshifting aliens – the Gauna. Now earthlings live among massive spaceships created from the remains of the planet. One such ship is the Sidonia, which is possibly the last human settlement remaining as the fates of the other ships are unknown. The battle for survival is fierce for humanity in this deep void of space.
