

Your result:

Death Note

Death Note is an intriguing dive into the question: What is justice? In this world, the Death Note is found by a high school student named Light. He soon realizes that he can kill anyone, simply by writing their name in the notebook. If you got a hold of such a notebook, what would you do?

Watch it here: (Caution: Use AdBlocker with all below!)

The Watchlist

(Titles are clickable!)

Ajin (Also on Netflix.)

Kei discovers he is an "Ajin" when he is fatally wounded in a traffic accident, but doesn't die. This discovery turns Kei's world upside down as he is now a target of the government. This story explores humanity, and morality. Do they even matter if you're not human?

Ghost in the Shell

There's a criminal on the loose, and Major is the officer trailing the threat. Citizens call the criminal "The Puppet Master" who hacks into the brains of cyborgs in order to steal information. When your mind has been erased, or replaced with fake memories, how can you know what's real?

Inuyashiki: Last Hero

Ichirou Inuyashiki is a 58-year-old family man who is going through a difficult time in his life. One night, when he thought all hope was lost, a strange figure transforms him into a machine. The compassionate Ichirou immediately uses his newfound powers to save lives. However, he quickly finds out that there's someone else that has received this dangerous gift. When you receive power, are you obligated to use it for good?

Psycho Pass

The Sibyl System knows what you are thinking at all times. It measures your good intentions, and your mental stability. The resulting assessment is called a Psycho-Pass. If we find you unstable, you will be pursued, apprehended, and either arrested or decomposed by the field officers of the Crime Investigation Department of the Public Safety Bureau. The Sibyl system is perfect. Justice is fair.

Erased

Satoru Fujinuma involuntarily turns back time five minutes prior to a bad incident that he can prevent. But one day, when he is framed for his mother's murder, he travels back to 18 years ago where the same kidnapper has killed two young girls and a young boy in his hometown. Could he solve the mystery this time? Or would his efforts be futile?

