Princess Mononoke

On a journey to find the cure for a curse, Ashitaka finds himself in the middle of a war between the forest gods, and a mining colony. In this quest he also meets San, the Mononoke Princess. He tries to emphasize that there is good on both sides of this war, but neither is willing to listen.

Natsume's Book of Friends

For as long as he can remember, Natsume has had the ability to see spirits, inheriting the power from his grandmother Reiko. Reiko made binding contracts with various spirits, compiling them into a book -- the "Book of Friends." However, Natsume seeks to release the spirits from the contract as he comes across them.

Violet Evergarden (Also on Netflix.)

Violet was a child soldier in a brutal war. But now that the war is over, she yearns to learn the meaning of the words "I love you," uttered from the Major's dying breath. Through her journey, learns how to connect with people, and may be one step closer to finding love.

Vision of Escaflowne

High school student Hitomi is transported from Earth to the magical world of Gaea, where she meets boy prince Van Fanel, and is caught up in his quest to unite the countries of Gaea against the ominous Zaibach empire. On the way, she discovers she has a hidden ability that can help their quest and strives to unravel layers of mystery surrounding Van, his past, and the giant machine known as Escaflowne.

Fruits Basket (2019)

Tohru Honda is a high school girl that currently lives in a tent. But don't worry, it's only temporary! Soon after, one of her classmates comes across her pitched tent -- mostly because it was on his family's property. Him and his cousin offer her a room to stay, but she quickly learns that they, and their entire family, are hiding a secret from the world. They are all afflicted with a curse, but Tohru's kindness never fails to heal their hearts.
